VITAL FEATURES

HEROES FROM REAL LIFE 4

If comic strips were to use real people of today as their heroes, they'd recapture the ingredient they lost: mainly humor.

SKIN DIVING 11

An article about a sport that offers some fabulous new thrills to those who follow it, including the thrill of maybe drowning.

PROGRESS HORNSBY 16

Sid Caesar comes back to MAD (to tell us all off!) and then introduces us to that famous member of the "Frozen School of Jazz".

BRIDGE 20

MAD investigates a very controversial topic, the game of Bridge, and sees how any move you make can start controversies.

ON-THE-JOB MARCHING SONGS ... 26

The trouble with working on a job is: there's no fighting spirit. So here are some fight songs that should start some fights.

PERRY MASONMINT 29

Every week, a famous TV lawyer makes a fool of a DA. Being fair-minded, MAD turns the tables and makes a fool of itself!

HOW A TV SCRIPT IS BORN 36

Disgusted with the stuff known as "TV fare", MAD shows why a good original script is only doomed to end up as this "TV feh"!

MIRACLE FABRICS 44

Far be it for us to pull the wool over your eyes! We simply stretch a point to show you what looms in a cut-and-dyed industry.

A Revolutionary New Idea In Casual Wear

MAD STRAIGHT JACKETS

Wear One And You'll LOOK REVOLTING!

MAD's genuine simulated straight jacket looks exactly like the real thing, but has the added advantage that you can get your hands loose to fight them off when they come to take you away. Doubles as a beach, autograph, or lounging jacket. Has two deep outside pockets roomy enough to carry your lunch, including thermos or beer bottles. Criss-crossed pockets also cradle arms so you can use them as slings if you break both your collar bones. Printed on back in four permanent colors. Phony belt secured by genuine padlock, which you'll love till you sit in a hard-backed chair. Made for Small, Medium, and Large lunatics. $4.95

APRIL FOOL COVER

Last night, when I purchased the April issue of MAD, a wave of terror engulfed me. Since I have been a fan of yours for as long as I can remember, the thought of the publication of MAD being terminated was enough to activate my suicide impulse. I would have succeeded in hanging myself if my dear old mother hadn't informed me that it was all a joke!

Merwyn D. Nelson
Rapid City, So. Dak.

There's a spoilsport in every family!—Ed.

You guys sure gave me a scare with your "This is the end of MAD" bit. It aged me ten years. Thanks for the favor. Now I'm old enough to get a driver's license.

Josh Zerlin
South Euclid, Ohio

Just what do you clods think you're doing! You build up our hopes, and then tell us it's all a gag!

Jack Marin
Brooklyn, N. Y.

RICH KID

This is George A. Omdorff, of Hinsdale, Illinois. Obviously, George is the only "Rich Kid" in the country who reads MAD. Mainly because he was the only one in the country who bought a set of the 14-Carat Gold brick Cuff Links!—Ed.

THE FUTURE

Enclosed is a picture of our class that should make you cry with joy. You can see that here are real scholars. Here are young people who will eventually chart the unknown reaches of the universe. Here are future citizens, future rulers of civilization . . . prepared in their early years by MAD. The deep, deep thought-provoking material contained in your publication will influence them for the rest of their lives. Someday, you will fully realize the effects of your work.

Alan Peiken
North Miami Beach, Fla.

And, boy, will we be sorry!—Ed.

IND

What's the big idea? On the cover of the April issue, you left out the letters "IND" that the fat woman is supposed to be pointing to.

Charles Allen
Sonoma, Calif.

Someone forgot to put the "IND" on the cover of the April issue. The poor dame is running around pointing at nothing, which your mag turned out to be after I finished reading it.

Joseph Lipari
Brooklyn, N. Y.

I know this is the stupidest magazine published, but you don't have to keep on proving it all the time. The main reason I'm writing is to tell you idiots that you forgot to put the "IND" on the front cover of your April issue.

Tommy Le Clair
Ludlow, Vt.

Since the "This Is The End Of MAD" front cover was really the back cover, we didn't forget to put the "IND" on it at all! Actually, we forgot to put it on the "RCA Victim" ad back cover, which was really the front cover!—Ed.

SOME CARD PLAYER

In "Television Roulette", Bret Maverick announced they were going to play seven-card stud. Next time we saw him, he was giving a player three cards. Any idiot knows you don't get new cards in stud poker.

Ken Luciani
Candor, New York

Seven-Card Stud?

For a card player, Maverick doesn't know his game very well. He called for seven-card stud, and wound up giving extra cards. What's the explanation?

Russ Durham
Prairie Village, Kansas

He cheats!—Ed.

TOURIST PHRASE BOOK

How come the Confederate flag on your Tourist Phrase Book has 21 stars? There were only 13 states on the side of the Confederacy during the Civil War.

Howard Arnberg
Colorado Springs, Colo.

Twenty-One Stars?

The extra stars on MAD's Confederate Flag represent the Northern States whose hearts just weren't in it!—Ed.

In "MAD's Handy Phrase Book For Modern American Tourists, in the "African" section, you have a phrase which says: "There is a python in my sleeping bag!" For your information, pythons are not found in Africa. See any good encyclopedia.

David Colton
Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

You were right, David! There was a python curled up in our encyclopedial!—Ed.

DOUBLE VISION

Enclosed is a picture of me showing the results of reading too many issues of MAD. Not only has your idiocy rotted my mind, but I've also developed an extra pair of eyes. Now I have to suffer through your junk twice as much.

Seward McCain
Palo Alto, Calif.

But you only have to look half as hard!—Ed.

SUGGESTED NAMES

In your letter page of the April issue, you ask for "suggestions" for Alfred E. Neuman's girlfriend's name. We have a suggestion. Mainly, learn how to spell "suggestion"!

Jim Fautus
McHenry, Ill.

Her name is "MADeline"...

Wayne Montgomery
Indianapolis, Ind.

Seeing as how you have "Moxie" all over the magazine, why not call her "Moxie", and kill two birds with one stone?

Jarl Johansson
Ottawa, Ont., Canada

She looks like "Moxie Cowznofsky" to me...

Barbara Forrester
Bellmore, N. Y.

She looks like "Moxie Cowznofsky" to us too, Barbara, mainly because that's her name!—Ed.

More and more these days, the trend is toward "realism" in entertainment. Take all them TV heroes, for example. Guys like Bat Masterson, Wyatt Earp, and Jack Benny. These characters aren't made up! No sir! They're taken from real life! If newspaper syndicates were smart, they'd get on the ball, follow the trend, and get more realism in their features by using these...

John Masefinkle—Skin Diver from Hackensack

IN THE OLD DAYS, THE MORE ADVENTUROUS SOULS AMONG US USED TO DREAM OF GOING DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS. NOWADAYS, THE MORE ADVENTUROUS SOULS AMONG US DREAM OF GOING DOWN TO THE SEA . . . AND THEN UNDER IT . . .

SKIN DIVING

STORY AND PICTURES BY DAVID BERG

THE SATELLITE SEEN IN THE UPPER RIGHT CONTAINS SEVERAL COWS. IT IS THE FIRST HERD SHOT 'ROUND THE WORLD!

Scientists tell us that life on Earth can be traced back millions of years . . . to its origin in the sea around us. There, the first one-celled animal bubbled, then wriggled then swam, and finally crawled onto land to develop into the creature known as "Man." Yes, through the process of evolution, we have come a long way upward . . . ever upward.

This article deals with the reactionaries to this evolution. Mainly, the skin divers who are reversing the process by returning to the sea and going downward, ever downward. This, then, is an article with depth.

To accomplish this return to the sea, skin divers must have the special equipment shown below: (1) Face Mask, (2) Oxygen Tank, (3) Rubber Suit, (4) Weighted Belt, (5) Flippers, (6) Wrist Depth Gauge, (7) Spear, and (8) Knife. Manufacturers who supply this equipment charge fantastic prices for it, proving there's more than one way to skin a skin diver!

SKIN DIVING ENTHUSIASTS CLAIM THEY SALVAGE

Skin diving enthusiasts claim they derive enjoyment from searching for and finding lost valuables they can salvage

OBSERVATION

Skin diving enthusiasts claim there's lots of thrills and plenty excitement studying forms of marine life close-up.

SPEAR FISHING

Spear-fishing is popular among the more bloodthirsty skin divers. Spears used in this delightful sport come in the many and varied types shown above, all designed to KILL!

Skin divers will tell you that spear-fishing is far more thrilling than rod-and-reel fishing . . . and that once you have experienced it, your thirst for it is unquenchable!

While a rod-and-reel fisherman must wait patiently for a hungry fish to take his bait, the skin diver with a spear can go below and plaster one whether it's hungry or not!

An expert skin diver never goes spear-fishing alone, but uses the safer "buddy system". the advantage being that if there are no fish to shoot, there's always his "buddy"!

CAN ENJOY MANY FACETS OF THE SPORT

DISCOVERY

EXPLORATION

Skin diving enthusiasts claim nothing can match the eerie mystery of discovering and investigating old sunken hulks

Skin diving enthusiasts claim once you've experienced the dangers of exploring undersea caves, you've really lived.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

THE UNDERWATER CAMERA

The development of water-tight casings for cameras opened a new world for skin divers, while landlubber photo bugs were stuck on shore with the same old mundane subjects

MAD shudders to think what will happen if skin diving continues to gain in popularity. Before long, this return to the sea . . . this reversal of the evolutionary process

THE AQUA-LUNG

The development of the aqua-lung made it possible for the skin diver to remain underwater longer, breathing air at $5.00 a tankful which he can get above water for FREE!

. . . will begin to have its effects, and once again, Man will develop gills, then scales, then fins, until finally he ends up as that wriggling, bobbing, one-celled animal.

SID CAESAR DEPT.

By the time this issue of MAD hits the newsstands (and the newsstands hit back in self-defense), Sid Caesar will have scored again on TV, starring in the May 3rd Rexall "Special" (nee: spectacular) for NBC. Not content with his resounding successes on television, Sid Caesar now courts immortality by starring again in MAD . . . this time as one of his best-known comedy characters, Jazz Musician Progress Hornsby. True to his name, Progress has "progressed" . . . from "cool" to what critics hail as the "Frozen School" of Jazz. Neither way out, nor far out, Progress Hornsby is "celestial". And so we here at MAD take great pleasure in presenting . . .

Good evening, America. This is Ed Rolphwards, speaking to you from Jazzdom's famous Shockland . . . and we're here tonight to surprise America's coolest jazz musician, the "Popsicle" himself . . . Mr. Progress Hornsby!

Kindly remove yourself slightly, sir . . . as I am conducting secret negotiations with the lady who is in possession of that big red eye. I am conspicuously consumed by the manner in which she is watching me.

Sorry to disappoint you, but that's not a lady! That's our TV camera! You see, my name is Ed Rolphwards . . . and that camera, Progress Hornsby, is here . . . FOR THE LIFE OF YOU! And now, would you mind accompanying me to America's favorite TV studio Mr. Hornsby?

Senator Kennedy in "Johnny Eager"

Progress Hornsby . . . you are born on February 8th, 1928. Your early childhood is unhappy, but your drab existence brightens when you are presented with a saxophone. Now, see if you remember this voice . . .

Do you remember the time when you first got your sax, and I took out my bongos, and we really waited?

I do not recognize the voice, but I vaguely reminisce the bongos. Can it be the personage of my mother?

That's right, Progress! Direct from Iglooland Night Club where she is a combination bon-go-player-cigarette girl, here is your mother . . . Mrs. Euphoria Hornsby! It must be thrilling to see your mother again after all these years!

It is as deliberately exciting as it was winning the Jazz Medal for Gallantry! I did that at the Cannes Jazz Festival, when I saxophoned for 87 consecutive hours without once playing "How High The Moon"!

FOR THE LIFE
OF YOU!
BROUGHT TO YOU BY THE BETTER
CASKETS

For The Life Of PROGRESS HORNSBY

WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR MAD BY SID CAESAR

I would be highly fidelitied to, if you bring along the lady which you auspiciously call a TV camera. And please do not refer to me as "Mr. Hornsby". That is the lyric to my name. Call me "Progress", which is the verse!

Is Progress your given name

No one has ever given me anything! I have earned the name Progress, as all things about me bespeak progress... up to and including my 1967 haircut, which was written, produced, and directed by the late, great Salvador Horatio.

Well, here we are at America's favorite TV studio... FOR THE LIFE OF YOU! Tell me, Progress, are you surprised to find yourself on Television?

To be courageously honest, it is quite a surprise to find myself anywhere!

PICTURES BY MORT DRUCKER

87 consecutive hours? Didn't you sleep?

Of course I slept! But I kept on playing!

By the way, that's an unusual instrument, Progress! But why does it have a filter tip?

Because I am of the progressive school of jazz. This is to filter out the melody in case it tries to intrude upon my music. In other words, it's what's up front that counts!

I see! The filter helps you to play milder!

No... wilder!

81 IS MY SEAT

I also notice you have an extra valve! Would you mind telling me what that is for?

I would be governmentally inspected to. This valve controls the steam. Sometimes I play so cool, my lip freezes. At that moment, I instantaneously turn this valve, and the superintendant sends up steam, thereby thawing my lip and other facial accoutrements

Well, time marches on, Progress... and you complete your education. Would you mind telling us what school you attended?

I would be excessively over-charged to. I attended Count Basie High, where I majored in Rest Period, a subject well-represented in most schools today. I once broke the auditorium windows when I blew a high "K" over "J".

But the scale only goes to "G". Why did you hit "K"?

Because it was there! In fact it is still there, beckoning to us jazz greats. One day I hope to hit high "Z". And I am determined to go beyond "Z" and make a whole NEW ALPHABET!

Yes, direct from the Middle East, here is your old friend U.S. Department of State troubleshooter Bosley Mandiville!

I am consummated with delight that you could be in my presence... wherever I am.

Yes, Mr. Ralphwards, the people overseas really enjoyed Mr. Hornsby's music, and especially the "cat" who played drums.

For those of you who don't understand, a "cat" is a person... in jazz language

For those of you who do understand, a "cat" is an animal of the earth people which hangs around on hot tin roofs, making fabulous sounds. We had such a "cat" as our drummer. That way, the rhythm section was noiseless, and did not intrude on my music... or whatever it is I play.

••Judge Crater in "Gone With the Wind"

Progress, would you say that jazz is a science?

The two are not even acutely related! We are 33 bars ahead of them! If Science had gone as fast as Music, it would be moving among the celestials by now, as we musicians are. So my advice to Science is: listen for the downbeat, and then Science will start swinging!

And now, Progress... as a special surprise, we've flown here by jet plane your original combo!

Jet? Sir, you are adroitly behind the times! You have wasted your money! They could have flown here by themselves!

Progress, would you like to introduce the group?

I would be most constructively criticized to. On piano is Shorty Bubble, on bass is Doornet Jaguar, on drums we have One-Stick Haverstraw, on clarinet is the blatantly popular Particular Frosty, and on horn is one whose name we do not know, but his serial number is 7892 dash 450 dash 37, and on saxophone is the fabulous whatever you wish to call me. This is all that remains of our original duo.

Tell me, Progress, how come you don't wear a goatee like other jazz musicians?

Sir, but I do wear a goatee! Only I have dyed it flesh-color, so it does not interfere with the viewing of my immaculate chin.

Progress, here's another voice out of the past you may remember ...

I'll never forget the way people overseas reacted to Progress Hornsby when we sent him there as our "Cool Ambassador" from the U.S.

That is the voice of the State Department personage who launched us on our earthly orbit to Cultural Exchangeland.

"Dixie Gillespie in 'Vertigo'"

Progress, you've played with all the jazz greats . . .

Au contraire, sir! I have never played with anyone! I do not even venture to play with my own group! Jazz is not the music of togetherness or anything!

Well, say good-bye to Mr. Mandiville for now, Progress. You'll see him later ... at the party

A party? So-lid! I hope you have RSVP'ed the little lady with the red eye. You may call her a TV camera, but I know better, because she has finally made known her magnificent intentions!

I'm sorry ... we haven't. But we'll have plenty of food.

That is c'est magnifique ... as I love food. Especially when I mix it with my mouth. I have composed a "Concerto for Chewing and Biting", which I hope will be heard at the party ... or someplace

And now, the group and myself are going to fly ... because the moon people are calling.

But you can't leave! We're making a film of this program ...

Do not be duly concerned about my absence. I will leave my saxophone and you can dub in the rest of me!

There is nothing more infectious and exciting than the shouting and yelling and hollering and screaming of people enjoying a Sport, whether it be Baseball or Football or Basketball or Pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey. And so, with this thought in mind, we now turn the MAD spotlight on the one Sport that can boast of more shouting and yelling and hollering and screaming than any other Sport...namely

5 WHAT? 5 KIBITZ?	WHO'S THE WISE GUY?	NOT ME! IT'S HIM!	WILL YOU SHUT UP!	MAKE ME!
SOMEBODY SOCK HIM!	I PASS!	I PASS!	I PASS!	YOU'RE ALL YELLOW!
OH, YEAH! PUT 'EM UP!	POW!	SOCK!	GRUNT!	THUD!

Here is a perfect example of the effectiveness of "separating suits" when it comes to Bridge. I couldn't help hearing about this hand as it was going on, so I rushed next door to enjoy it.

West opened the heart queen, dummy covered, and East sneezed, scattering dummy's cards over the floor. Then she played the king. Dummy took the trick with her hand. West called a renege, pointing out that declarer hadn't played a card. Declarer called West a sore-loser and played the ace. Then she set up her club suit by leading the king, forcing West's ace. Dummy played low, since the cards were still on the floor, and East trumped with the spade 5. West did a double-take and asked to see the trick, pointing out that East had just pulled the bone-head play of the century, trumping her partner's ace. Bonehead wasn't exactly East's favorite nickname, so she threw a small diamond to the table. But West managed to talk her into putting it back on her finger, and East led a spade, pulling West's only trump. West then screamed that his heart-lead had indicated a singleton, and if East had any brains, she'd have led a heart so he could use his only trump to win a trick. So East promptly led a small club, right over West's head!

Meanwhile, South took the trick with her ace, continued extracting trump, and ended up in dummy. Whereupon her husband exploded, pointing out that now she couldn't run the club suit because she couldn't get back to her hand. So South gave him the back to her hand, and showed him! Right across the mouth!

The score was then found to be inaccurate, and everybody decided to call it an evening. In fact, they decided to call it a friendship!

The forthcoming marriage between East and West was cancelled, but not before an ugly court wrangle! The three-year-old marriage between North and South was ended in a quickie Mexican Divorce!

And there you have the effectiveness of "separating suits"!

LIKE WE SAID, BRIDGE IS A PLEASANT WAY TO SOCIALIZE WITH FRIENDS! FRIENDS YOU CAN'T STAND AND WANT AN EXCUSE TO GET RID OF, THAT IS!

LUCKY MAN FINDS LOST LUCKY PENNY

PITTSBURGH, Pa. May 20—J. Weldon Wembley had been searching for his lost lucky penny for two years. He always felt that he would find it.

This morning, while fingering a torn section in the lining of his coat, his hand touched something round and metallic. Sure enough, it was his lucky penny!

"I always knew I'd find my lucky penny," stated Wembley. "It just proves what can happen if you don't give up hope."

The lining of his coat was torn last night when two hoodlums robbed Wembley of his wallet, then kicked and pounded him into unconsciousness. Wembley discovered the coin after being taken to Mercy Hospital, where he is reported in fair condition.

HOBBYIST LAUNCHES BOAT HE BUILT IN BASEMENT

FURDVILLE, Ohio, May 19—Glenn Pladde, an amateur boat-builder, launched his 12-foot dinghy today three weeks ahead of schedule. He began building the boat in his basement last September, and never thought that he would be able to use it so soon.

The early launching was caused by a flash flood which swept through Furdsville yesterday, carrying off Pladde's house, Pladde's dinghy, and Pladde himself. 65 others were drowned in the disaster.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

MIAMI, Fla. May 20—A local man has proven the old adage that two can live as cheaply as one, even in these days of rising prices.

Hector Sedgewick revealed that it cost him nothing more when there were two mouths to feed than when he lived alone. He declared that despite the acquisition of a roommate last week, his living costs had not risen in the slightest.

His roommate was 11-year-old Tommy Goober, whom Sedgewick had kidnapped and held for $10,000 ransom. Young Goober, now 15 pounds lighter, told police that he was given nothing to eat during the period. Sedgewick will be arraigned on a kidnapping charge today.

PICTURES BY GEORGE WOODBRIDGE

TEXT BY FRANK JACOBS

The GENERAL MOTORS Hymn

(To the tune of "From The Halls Of Montezuma")

From the gau-dy grille of Cadillac
To the fins of Chevrolet,
We will push G M's new mo-dels
And make obso-lence pay!
So to heck with Ford and Chrysler, boys,
And to sports cars from afar!
We won't stop till every fam-i-ly
Owns a brand new G M car!

The BELL TELEPHONE

Operators' March

(To the tune of "Cheer, Cheer For Old Notre Dame")

Ring-ring for Bell Tele-phonel
We look up numbers when they're unknown!
We place calls for V I P's!
We listen in each time we please!
We are efficient! We are alert!
We hear the gossip! We pick up dirt!
Every time a call's cut off, we
Hang up a vic-tor-ee!

The Mailmen's Song

(To the tune of "Stouthearted Men")

Give me some men
Who are Post Office men,
Who look grand
When they hand
Out the mail!
Men who will go
Through the rain,
Through the snow,
Through the sleet,
Through the slush,
Through the hail—oh!
Doorway to doorway,
It's my way, it's your way!
We work,
Never shirk,
Never fail!
When...
There's nothing in the bag
To keep us on the street!
Then...
Post Office men
Can all go home and soak their feet!

The Garbage Collectors' Chanty

(To the tune of "Anchors Aweigh!")

Trash cans a-way, my boys!
Trash cans a-way!
Let's hear you make some noise!
We'll wake 'em up to day—ay—ay—ay!
Egg shells and coffee grounds,
Grease from the pan,
Can't make ear-splitting sounds
So—Dump that garbage,
Dump that garbage can!

The Dentist's March

(To the tune of the "Air Force Song")

Off we go
Into that wild mouth yon-der,
Look-ing for
Molars to fill!
There's a tooth
Waitin' to feel our thun-der,
At 'em, boys!
Give it the drill! Rat-a-ta-tat!
We dislike
Cavities left untreat-ed!
Teeth look bad
Full of decay!
When we're in doubt,
We pull them out!
Oh—nothing can stop a Dentist to-day!

The KELLOGG COMPANY'S Push Song

(To the tune of "On Wisconsin")

Push Rice Krispies!
Push Rice Krispies!
Snap, Crack-le and Pop!
While you're at it,
Push our Corn Flakes!
Fi-nest of the crop—
yum! yum! yum!
Shout that each is
Great with peaches,
Fresh or from the can!
And, while you're push-ing,
Don't for-get
All-Bran!

The March Of The Teamsters

(To the tune of "The Caissons Go Rolling Along")

On the street,
On the road,
We won't carry a full load,
As the Teamsters go rolling a-long!
Make them pass
On the right,
Keep your Union Card in sight,
As the Teamsters go rolling a-long!
For it's hi-hi-hey!
When we want a raise in pay,
We shout out our grievance loud and strong ...
[Yeah-yeah!]
And when 'ere we like,
We just call a strike,
And the Country stops rolling a-long!

The Stockbrokers' Chorus

(To the tune of "I've Been Working On The Railroad")

We've been work-ing down on Wall Street,
Stocks we sell and buy!
We've been work-ing down on Wall Street,
And we'll work there till we die!
Can't you see the ticker flash-ing:
"Buy now—in-vest your ex-tra cash!"
Can't you hear the brokers shout-ing:
"Sell—here comes the crash!"

"Think"—

The Song Of The IBM Workers

(To the tune of "The Song Of The Vagabonds")

Oh, you math'-ma-ticians,
Work-ers and tech-nicians,
Think! Think! Think for IBM!
Oh, you o-pera-tors
Of those cal-cu-la-tors,
Think! Think! Think for IBM!
On-ward, boys! Com-pute until you find
How to make ma-chines replace the mind!
What if au-to-mation
Idles half the nation;

The Barber's Anthem

(To the tune of "Over There!")

On his hair!
On his hair!
Sprinkle goo,
Spill shampoo,
On his hair!
Give that man a crew cut,
Or try a new cut,
But make sure you cut
Off his hair!

In your chair!
In your chair!
Give your views
While he stews
In your chair!
Keep on gab-bin',
Complainin', crab-bin'!
'Cause he can't get up
Till you're finished with his hair!

Every single Saturday night for the past two years on TV, master sleuth and legal eagle, Perry Masonmint, has outwitted District Attorney Hamilton Burgerbits. Now, we don't know if this poor schnook of a DA ever wins any cases during the week, but we certainly think it would be a refreshing change if, just for once, we could turn on our television set, and watch . . .

THE NIGHT THAT PERRY MASONMINT LOST A CASE

PICTURES BY MORT DRUCKER

We've got this guy Harry Townes cold, Burgerbits! He shot a batter at home plate in Yankee Stadium in the third inning of the opening day game! We've got 69,432 witnesses to the murder . . . the murder weapon . . . Townes's fingerprints . . . and a signed confession!

There's just two things I want to know, Lieutenant Drag: When does he come to trial . . . and who's defending him?

McCarren-Walters in "Welcome Stranger"

Saturday night! And . . . Perry Masonmint!

We're sunk!

But, Burgerbits! The murder weapon . . . the seventy-thousand witnesses . . . the signed confession! I tell you, we've got an open and shut case this time!

No, Drag! To Perry Masonmint, that is just circumstantial evidence! We need PROOF!

The court will come to order! Attorney for the defense, how does the defendant plead?

Not guilty! By the way, how are Marge and the kids, Sam?

They're all fine, Perry! And what does the State intend to prove in this case?

Not much, your honor! I think I got an overtime parking charge here I might make stick!

Then we'll proceed!

Paul, grab a plane to Cooperstown ... to the Baseball Hall of Fame ... check the archives, and find out how many home runs Rogers Hornsby hit in Yankee Stadium in his major league career!

Right, Perry! I'll be back soon ...

Your Honor ... I have here a copy of the 1958 American League baseball schedule, which proves conclusively that on April 14, the day of the murder, the N. Y. Yankees were playing in Kansas City!

I object! If Mr. Masonmint is right, then perhaps he can tell me what seventy-thousand people were doing in Yankee Stadium that day?

That question is irrelevant, immaterial, and mainly if I answered it, I would ruin my case!

And now, with the Court's permission, I'd like to demonstrate that the gun the State claims was used to commit the crime could not possibly be a murder weapon. Miss Sweet, would you step up here, please ...

I love you, Perry!

Not now, Delia!

Your Honor, according to the District Attorney's theory, this is the angle that the gun was fired from! I'll just pull the trigger ... and ...

You mean to tell the Court you found all those fingerprints on this gun?

Not on the entire gun! Those were just on the barrel! We're still working on the handle!

Thank you, Mr. Freebish! You can step down!

Just one minute, Mr. Freebish! Would you take the murder weapon from Mr. Masonmint, and tell the Court whose fingerprints you find on it NOW?

PERRY MASONMINT'S!

Exactly! Your Honor, I contend that Perry Masonmint committed this murder!

That he tried to kill Della Sweet because she knew too much... That he sent Paul Dreck on a wild goose chase to get him out of this courtroom... and that this morning, he married the defendant, Harry Townes, so Harry couldn't testify against him!

Mr. Masonmint, do you know why 70,000 fans were in Yankee Stadium on a day when the Yankees were in Kansas City? I'll tell you why! I invited them there! I wanted them to witness that murder! They're all personal friends of mine, and I intend to call each and every one of them to the stand to testify! I'm going to convict you, Masonmint, if it takes a lifetime! Mr. Bailiff... start calling these witnesses to the stand in alphabetical order...

Anthony A. Aardvark, take the stand, please!

Where did I go wrong, Della?

Burgerbits tricked you, Perry! This is Friday night!

Here it is, Perry! Rogers Hornsby never hit a home run in Yankee Stadium during a regular season! He played his entire career in the NATIONAL LEAGUE!

Oh, shut up!

CONFESSION IS GOOD FOR THE SALE DEPT.

The newest literary trend seems to be these confession-type books in which the writer, usually a well-known personality, lays bare his soul and tells all, books like "I'll Cry Tomorrow", "The Joker Is Wild", and "Too Much, Too Soon". Not only have these revealing autobiographies become best-sellers, they've also been made into movies thereby earning additional revenue for their authors. MAD feels that the success of these books will encourage other celebrities to hop on the bandwagon and before long we'll be seeing these . . .

FUTURE "CONFESSION" BOOKS

If you're a fella, you probably have a good idea what you look like from staring into your bathroom mirror while shaving. (And if you're a girl, you probably have a good idea what you look like from staring into your compact mirror while shaving.) But the truth is . . . other people see you a lot differently than you see yourself. Because people who know you have their own way of recognizing you. So, with this article, MAD shows . . .

Whenever we see one of those hour-long TV dramas, we're thankful that there's a place where people can see the works of talented American writers performed as they were written! Namely, Broadway! Because most TV dramas these days are

How A Television

Here is the original script as it was first written by the Author, who has also included his personal comments:

In this play, I show how it is possible for a boy to have all the benefits of a good home, and still feel unwanted. The first scene shows how Sidney's father, a judge, is too involved in courtroom work to pay attention to his son.

This next scene shows Sidney's feelings toward his father . . . his resentment at being ignored. This lack of companionship between father and son is really what drives Sidney into seeking the friendship of a mixed-up boy like Johnny.

PICTURES BY WALLACE WOOD

From the Author, the script then went to the Script Editor of the program who made the following changes and comments:

This is a fine script! Let's not touch a thing! Except . . . how many boys have fathers who are judges? One out of 5000? That's why I've made the old man a professional golfer. My old man was a professional golfer, and he ignored me!

Nothing to be changed here, except I don't feel we should sympathize with the boy too much. So I've made him a mechanical genius, an egghead. That way it really isn't so much the old man's fault. I know! I've got an egghead for a son!

pretty sad! In fact, we've often wondered what happens to a TV script once the writer turns it in. Recently, a network spy sent us the following material from a play to be presented on the Globber Playhouse which clearly shows

Script Is Born

Goaded by Johnny, Sidney drives wildly through town until he accidentally strikes down a dog. He is immediately sorry for what he has done, but lacks the moral fiber to stop and face the dog's owner, so he speeds away from the scene.

This scene depicts Sidney's moment of manhood. We see that he is basically a responsible person when he confesses what has happened to the judge. We also see the judge's moment of truth when he realizes his own failings as a father.

Confronted by the dog's owner, the judge faces a difficult decision. As a father, he is guilty of neglecting his son. But as a judge, he must be impartial. He decides, therefore, to bring the actions of his son (and himself) to trial.

Note that I've changed the Caddy to a Jaguar here. I own a Jag myself, and I know how keen they are! Also note that I've eliminated the dog-killing. Those A. S. P. C. A. phone calls can be murder, so why go looking for trouble?

This scene is okay, except it misses the boat. Sidney's father isn't upset; in fact he's sort of pleased to find his kid is human, and isn't so perfect. After all, that's the way I'd act if it happened to that smart-aleck kid of mine.

This scene lacked warmth, so I've fixed it. By offering to buy Sidney his own Jaguar, the old man turns out to be a swell guy, and everybody is happy, which always makes a good ending. I know it's the kind of ending my family'd like.

From the Script Editor,
the play then went

From the

Vice-President who put the finishing touches on this final version:

Scriptwise, this play is great. But I was just a little bothered by the father, so I've eliminated him. I've also changed the boy's name from Sidney to Steve—sounds more American. We can't afford to offend the American Legion!

Hey, Mom! Can I go out and play baseball?

Of course, Steve! You've been helping me all day...

Note that Steve and his friend, Bill (the name "John" is distasteful, reminds people of John Wilkes Booth!), are no longer boy mechanics. The real mechanics in the country might be offended, and we don't want to appear anti-union.

It is okay for you to play ball, Steve?

Sure, Bill! The only thing I hate is leaving Mom alone!

Bring your ball. The gang's wait-in' in the lot by the highway!

Wallis Simpson in "The King and I"

This is a fine play. However, may I remind you that it's sponsored by Globber's Breadcrumbs, not Baseball. Since Globber's Breadcrumbs are used by women, I've made the central character a girl, naming her Maxine, after my daughter.

Ma, I'm going to the Rock 'n Roll show with Gladys!

A girl your age should be thinking of marriage instead of Rock 'n Roll.

Note my new emphasis on Rock 'n Roll. I think this is important for product-exposure. Teenagers are potential Breadcrumb-buyers, so if we tie the two together in their minds, they'll buy Globber's Breadcrumbs when they grow up.

Ready to go, Maxine?

Ready! Hope we can get in!

Bring your autograph book! We'll wait at the Stage Door for Jerry Lee Lummo's personal autograph!

Great script! Wouldn't want to touch it! But I do think that having a mother nag an unmarried daughter might offend spinster TV fans. So I've made it into a stepmother-stepdaughter relationship, and I've added a few stepsisters.

Hurry up and help your sisters dress for the ball!

I'm hurrying as fast as I can, Stepmother!

Since Rock 'n Roll might offend parents, I've changed the stage show to a fancy costume ball. By replacing the girl friend with a godmother, we add family interest, and also create a part for Daphne Rancid, who's under contract to us.

Why are you so sad, my Dear?

Oh, Godmother! I wish I could go to the ball!

Is that all? Well, we'll fix that...

I've rewritten here so the boys play baseball. This agency is also handling the Major League telecasts this season, so we might as well get in a plug where we can. I've also changed the car to a Ford. It might help land the account.

Boy! You really swatted that one, Steve! Too bad it smashed that Ford's windshield!

I'll track down those boys! One of them owns this ball!

No changes! I just want to point out that by eliminating the father, it means the boy lives alone with his mother, she takes in laundry, they're hard up, and she cries a lot. It keeps the audience in a sober mood for commercials.

...and we ran away! I... I had to tell you, Mom!

Oh, Steve! What am I going to do with... what's that? Someone's at the door! It's the owner of the Ford! How will we ever get the money to pay for the windshield?

This scene lacked real emotion, so I fixed it. Since every American boy dreams of becoming a Big League ball player so he can make lots of money and help his old sick mother, let's have the car-owner turn out to be a Baseball Scout.

Yes, I'm the one who hit your windshield with the ball! I'm sorry...

I'm not sorry, son! You're a natural hitter! And I happen to be a scout for the Yankees! Just sign this bonus contract!

Oh, Steve, now we can have all the things we ever wanted!

Yul Brynner in "The Egg and I"

I'm glad I could eliminate the baseball scenes. This new backstage scene gives all the viewers a chance to see Dicky Finster, my daughter's favorite entertainer, who I suggest be cast as the singer so my daughter can get to meet him.

Isn't he divine? Isn't he cool and crazy!

Hey, some girl dropped her autograph book! Maybe her name is inside and I can track her down!

I've tinkered here. By having the girl cry, we give the mother a chance to do something else while she comforts her, like opening a box of Globber's Breadcrumb Mix. Note the close-ups I've indicated, shooting past the Globber box.

Will you stop crying over losing a silly autograph book and start thinking about getting married!

I can't! Jerry Lee Lummo is my whole life!

Someone's at the door! Stop sniveling and see who it is!

The last scene has everything—now. It brings the boy and girl together, it gives Dicky-boy a chance to sing another song, and mainly, it gives the mother more time to show off some of her tasty-looking Globber's Breadcrumb recipes.

It's you! It's really you!

I found your... say, you're pretty cute!

Such a nice man! You must stay for dinner and have some of my Globber's Breadcrumb Pizza!

I don't mean to be difficult, but an autograph book doesn't make much sense at a costume ball. I changed it so she loses her slipper instead. And having the girl (I've named her Cindy) due home by midnight injects some needed suspense.

The clock tolls midnight! I must leave! I must...

That girl! How will I ever find her again? Ah, she dropped her slipper!

Since this is a touchy script, let's avoid all objections by changing the time to the Middle Ages. And let's soft-pedal the sponsor's plugs! After all, we could ruin this really great play by following everybody's two-bit suggestions.

And the Prince is searching for the girl who dropped the slipper! He wants to marry her!

Don't just sit there, Cindy! Answer the door! It must be the PRINCE!

A few minor alterations in plot, characterization and dialogue, and the show wraps up just beautifully. The critics should love it. This is the kind of fresh new writing TV needs! The author should be encouraged to do more for us!

The slipper fits! I've found you at last! Marry me! I love you!

And I love you!

SUMMA CUM LOUDER DEPT.

Every year around this time, there are thousands of graduation ceremonies throughout the country. And as part of these ceremonies, distinguished members of the local communities deliver thousands of boring graduation speeches. These speeches are intended to inspire the graduate and impart a message, but let's face it! Hardly anyone pays attention to them! Most graduates are interested in only two things: getting their diplomas, and getting out of there! MAD feels, however, that every now and then in the past, somebody listened carefully to a graduation speech and the message it imparted affected his whole life. Here then, are excerpts from

GRADUATION SPEECHES

...THAT SOMEBODY LISTENED TO

After you graduate, some of you will go on to earn a great deal of money, while some of you will earn only a little. My advice to all of you is: No matter how much you earn, save it! Hold on to it! Money is precious, so don't give it up easily! That's the way I am. For example, if the boy who brought this water to the speaker's platform thinks I'm going to tip him, he's crazy! A penny saved . . .

PICTURES BY JOE ORLANDO

As you enter the adult world, enter it with the spirit of competition. Competition is the backbone of a free society! If someone is more successful than you, compete with him! Offer a little more than him! I'm a businessman, and when my competitor started getting more sales than me, I didn't worry. I competed with him. I offered a little more than him! I went and offered his salesmen a little more money! Now they're all working for me! That's competition!

The secret of success lies in seizing an opportunity when it comes. Take a fad, for instance. Once in every generation, a craze sweeps the nation. We had "flappers" in the 20's, "crooners" in the 30's, and "jitterbugs" in the 40's. Who can foresee what we will have next? For all I know, it may be hip-swiveling idiots doing absurd gyrations while strumming stringed instruments and singing gobble-dee-gook. Whatever it is, take advantage of it! Encourage it! There's money to be made! Lots and lots of money . . .

As you go through life, don't be satisfied with second best! Strive constantly for the top! And do everything in your power to get there! Never let anything stand in your way! It won't be easy! They'll fight you . . . insult you . . . in some far-away places, they may even throw rocks at you! But don't give up. Here in America, every one has a chance to become President. Except me, maybe, I'm a Whig!

Remember . . . if you believe in something, stand up and fight for those beliefs! Don't let other people step on you just because they're in power! Find friends who believe as you believe . . . and then revolt! Take over! That's the only way! Let them know who's boss. I hope you learn something from this little speech. I'm sure you'll agree it's the most revolting speech you ever heard . . .

BLIND DATE INSURANCE

This policy provides cash compensation in the event that the insured (hereinafter referred to as "the insured") should be unwittingly trapped into a blind date with an undesirable, unpleasant or disgusting type person (hereinafter referred to as "disgusting type person").

FURD-AMERICAN
"The Insurancier Insurance"

This policy will be voided if the insured is unable to equal the amount of the "disgusting type person" in the group.

HONESTLY THIS IS THE BEST POLICY DEPT.

Every now and then we get an irritating phone call from an irritating man with an irritating voice who tries to sell us insurance. The irritating thing is . . . we always buy some! At present, we're insured against fire, flood, famine, theft, loss, tornadoes, beri-beri, and being crushed to death by a stampede of elephants while walking East on 28th Street between 2 and 4 a.m. So, now that the insurance people have us grown-up clods insured up to the ears, why don't they start pestering the teen-age set? Most teen-agers have big problems and they need insurance! Also, most teen-agers have big money and they can afford it! To get the ball rolling, MAD opens a new field for the leading Insurance Companies of America with these...

NOW THAT SUMMER IS APPROACHING, WITH ITS HEAT AND HUMIDITY, IT'S

MIRACLE

Today's miracle fabrics are woven from specially-treated, or synthetic yarns. The finished products eliminate many problems, and at the same time increase the comforts of the wearers. There are three main selling-points offered

WASH N' WEAR... One suit serves every need

On important business trip, busy executive is unworried when mud splashes on his suit as he arrives at airport

At hotel, he scrubs suit while bathing, saving money and worry over not getting it back from the cleaners in time.

At conference, neat-looking executive shivers, not from nervousness, but from chill of wet suit drying on body.

Slight chill of previous day causes slight cold, so busy executive stays in bed. Note suit now serves as pajamas.

WRINKLEPROOF... Stands stress and strain
ORDINARY CLOTH

In crowded subway train, woman wears ordinary cloth dress.

When she leaves, ordinary cloth dress is badly wrinkled.

TIME TO CONSIDER THE COMFORTS THAT MODERN SCIENCE HAS WOVEN INTO FABRICS

by miracle fabrics: (1) Wash 'n Wear, (2) Wrinkleproof, and (3) Stretchable. The purpose of this article is to demonstrate these three main selling points, and thereby illustrate the wonderful advantages of miracle fabrics.

...A boon to busy executives, lazy slobs, and cheapskates.

Sudden downpour on way to important business conference does not faze carefree executive in "Wash 'n wear" suit.

Arriving in building lobby, drenched businessman finds fan . . . and suit is dried as good as new in 15 minutes.

*Jackie Gleason in "The Blob"

Slight complication develops from slight cold caused by slight chill which leads to slight case of pneumonia, and

"Wash 'n wear" suit sees still further use, proving that miracle fabrics not only look good, but last a lifetime!

...A boon to those who have to pack and unpack every day.

MIRACLE FABRIC CLOTHES THAT...

DEMONSTRATION OF HOW ONE SINGLE STRETCH ITEM SIZE FITS EVERYONE!

Stretch leotard made to fit everyone, in original unstretched single size.

Three-year-old toddler fitted snugly. Fabric hardly stretches at all.

Ten-year-old youngster also fitted well. Fabric shows slight stretching.

20-year-old girl fitted the best of all! Fabric really shows stretching!

DEMONSTRATION OF IMPORTANT ADVANTAGE DISCOVERED BY KIDS LAST XMAS!

STRETCH SOCK... HUNG UP ON CHRISTMAS EVE

STRETCH SOCK... FULL UP CHRISTMAS MORNING

BECAUSE OF THE VERSATILITY OF MIRACLE FABRICS THAT STRETCH, MORE AND MORE ARTICLES OF APPAREL MADE FROM THIS MATERIAL ARE APPEARING ON THE MARKET. PICTURED ABOVE ARE SOME OF THE REMARKABLE STRETCH ITEMS AVAILABLE TODAY
(Note that items illustrated are actual size, but will stretch to fit anybody!)

DEMONSTRATION OF HOW ONE STRETCH ITEM ADJUSTS TO YEAR-ROUND WEAR!

Unstretched underwear worn as cool briefs in blistering Summer heat.

Slightly-stretched, can be worn as comfortable shorts in balmy Spring.

Stretched a little more, affords warmth needed in brisk Fall weather.

Stretched all the way, affords protection in frigid Winter weather.

DEMONSTRATION OF IMPORTANT DISADVANTAGE INHERENT IN STRETCH ITEMS!

Stretch fabrics, like bathing suits, are always under extreme tension...

... which, when suddenly released ...

... snap back to their original size!

PRESENTING THE BILL—reproduced here, is one of a series of original oil paintings, "Practising Medicine For Fun and Profit", commissioned by Park-David.

Great Moments in Medicine

Once the crisis has passed . . . once the patient has regained his strength . . . once the family is relieved and grateful . . . that's the time when the physician experiences one of the great moments in medicine. In fact, the greatest moment in medicine! Mainly, the moment when he presents his bill! That's the time when all of the years of training and study and work seem worthwhile. And there's always the chance that the shock might mean more business for him!

Park-David scientists are proud of their place in the history of practicing medicine for fun and profit, helping to provide doctors with the materials that mean higher fees and bigger incomes. For example, our latest development . . . tranquilizer-impregnated bill paper . . . designed to eliminate the shock and hysteria that comes when the patient gets a look at your bill. Not only will he remain calm when he sees what you've charged . . . now he won't even care!
